4. Other institutional investors whose main activity is to invest in financial instruments, including entities dedicated to the securitization of assets or other financing transactions.

Professional Clients also include Retail Clients who requested to be categorized and treated as Professional Clients pursuant to Section 4 below (so-called “opting out” or “elective” Professional Clients).

- C. Eligible Counterparties: are any of the following entities: CIFs, other IFs, credit institutions, insurance companies, UCITS and UCITS management companies, pension funds and their management companies, other financial institutions authorised by a Member State or regulated under the laws of Cyprus or under European Union law, national governments and their corresponding offices, including public bodies that deal with public debt at national level, central banks, the Central Bank of Cyprus and supranational organisations.

CySEC also recognises as eligible counterparties other undertakings meeting pre-determined proportionate requirements, including quantitative thresholds. In the event of a transaction where the prospective counterparties are located in different jurisdictions, the Company shall defer to the status of the other undertaking as determined by the law or measures of the Member State in which that undertaking is established. In cases that the Company enters into transactions with such undertakings, it will obtain an express confirmation from the prospective counterparty that it agrees to be treated as an eligible counterparty. This confirmation is obtained either in the form of a general agreement or in respect of each individual transaction.

3. Request for change of categorization

Retail Clients can request to be categorized and treated as Professional Clients, in which case they will be afforded a lower level of protection.

Professional Clients can request to be categorized and treated as Retail Clients, in which case they will be afforded a higher level of protection.

Eligible Counterparties can request to be categorized and treated as either Retail or Professional Clients, in which case they will be afforded a higher level of protection.

It is noted that the Company will assess specified quantitative and qualitative criteria in accordance with the provisions of the Law and the change of categorization will depend on its absolute discretion.

4. Procedure for change of categorization: Elective Professional Clients

Retail Clients may request to be treated as Professionals provided that at least two of the following criteria are satisfied:

- a) the Client has carried out transactions, in significant size, on the relevant market at an average frequency of 10 per quarter over the previous four quarters,
- b) the size of the Client's financial instrument portfolio, defined as including cash deposits and financial instruments exceeds €500,000,
- c) the Client works or has worked in the financial sector for at least one year in a professional position, which requires knowledge of the transactions or services envisaged.

The Clients defined above may waive the benefit of the detailed rules of conduct only where the following procedure is followed:

- a) they must state in writing to the Company that they wish to be treated as Professional Clients, either generally or in respect of a particular investment service or transaction, or type of transaction or product;
- b) the Company must give them a clear written warning of the protections and investor compensation rights they may lose;
- c) they must state in writing, in a separate document from the contract, that they are aware of the consequences of losing such protections.

Before deciding to accept any request for waiver, the Company must take all reasonable steps to ensure that the Retail Client requesting to be treated as a Professional Client meets the relevant requirements stated above.

However, if Retail Clients have already been categorised as professionals under parameters and procedures similar to those above, it is not intended that their relationships with the Company should be affected by any new rules adopted pursuant to the Law.

Professional Clients are responsible for keeping the Company informed about any change, which could affect their current categorisation. Should the Company become aware however that the Client no longer fulfils the initial conditions, which made him eligible for a professional treatment, the Company is obliged to take appropriate action.

5. Procedure for change of categorization: Per Se Professional Clients

The Clients listed in paragraph 2.B.(1)-(4) above are considered as per se Professional Clients. In accordance with the Law, these entities are allowed to request non-professional treatment and the Company, at its sole discretion, may agree to provide a higher level of protection. Where a Client is an undertaking referred to above, the Company must inform the Client prior to any provision of services that, on the basis of the information available to the Company, the Client is deemed to be a Professional Client, and will be treated as such unless the Company and the Client agree otherwise.

It is the responsibility of the Client, considered to be a Professional Client, to ask for a higher level of protection when it deems it is unable to properly assess or manage the risks involved. This higher level of protection will be provided when a Client who is considered to be a professional enters into a written agreement with the Company to the effect that it shall not be treated as a Professional Client for the purposes of the applicable conduct of business regime of the Company. Such agreement shall specify whether this applies to one or more particular services or transactions, or to one or more types of product or transaction.

The Company shall be entitled to assume that a Professional Client has the necessary experience and knowledge in order to understand the risks involved in relation to those particular investment services or transactions, or types of transactions or product, for which the Client is classified as a Professional Client and also that the Client is able financially to bear any related investment risks.
